Mrs. M. S. Dillman and son Charles of Covington are on a visit to the family of the former's husband, Mr. William Davis of West Seneca.

Very Personal.—Postage on drop letters, whether aed or not, is 7 cents. Many persons send their notices through the Postoffice with only 1 cent stamp. These are "held for postage." Hereafter they must contain a 2 cent stamp.

The poletach catch has been a short one this season, we understand.

Colonel John Almeyre has a bouncing boy at his home in the First Ward.

Mr. W. R. Gill is able to be out again after some weeks of painful illness.

The last few days have been hard on the wheat, as it was not very healthy at best.

Mr. Basil D. Owens, we are glad to learn, has about regained his wonted health.

The wife of Colonel John L. Scott of Frankfort, formerly of this city, died a few days ago.

James Butcher is under $1,000 bond at Cincinnati, charged with robbing the Postoffice at Garris.

Mr. J. B. Bentley and family who went to Mississippi some time since to make their home, have returned again to Virginia.

The Louisville Post of March 11 had a two-column or more notice of Colonel Charles A. Marshall from the pen of Thomas M. Green, his nephew.

Mr. H. P. Lewis, the well known K. C. Engineer, who has been ill for some time at his home on Fort-avenue, is in a very critical condition this morning.

Governor Bradley pardoned George Perkins, a colored man of Nicholasville who was serving a five year sentence, and Perkins got home just in time to die.

Some of the largest and best tobacco growers in the country, who always raise good crops and realize top prices for the article, have not sold a pound of it the present season.

Rev. Mr. Jones the Evangelist, who had been conducting a meeting at Sardis, preached at Washington Wednesday night and left for his home in Mercer county Thursday.

The friends of Mrs. William J. Stillwell, formerly Miss Lizzie Wood of this county, now living near Louisville, Mo., will regret to learn that she is in ex-cellently delicate health.

The Lexington lawyers and doctors and dentists and others not are not tumbling over each other to pay their license fees to the city, and the Back Tax Collector is whetting his lead pencil.

BRADLEY!

The Ledger's Choice for President.

It costs the United States $600,000 a year for its weather service. Tauntor News.

Too cheap? too cheap! Why, we had at least $2,000,000 worth of weather in the last two weeks.

C. P. HUNTINGTON was asked by the Congressional Committee on Pacific Railroads if the Kentucky charter of the Southern Pacific would permit a guarantee of the Pacific Railroad bonds. Mr. HUNTINGTON boasted that the charter is broad enough for nearly anything and "has done about all we wanted it to."

THE House Committee on Territories has decided to report favorably a bill creating a territorial form of government in Alaska and giving it a representative in Congress. It is to be hoped that the Representative will not be a free-seaver crank.

THE LEDGER had no hand in choosing a single member of the present Kentucky Legislature. It does not feel called upon, therefore, to denounce the disgraceful proceedings of that most disgraceful of all legislative bodies. It feels proud, however, of the Republican State Officers, from the Governor down to the Commissioner of Agriculture, each and all of whom had its most enthusiastic support.

IT is said that some of the manufacturers of Philadelphia and other cities have become advocates of "free silver and Protection," and according to The Washington Star they have indicated the Republican leaders that unless silver is recognized at St. Louis in a way to suit them they will be much displeased and may not support the Republican ticket.

The reason offered for their espousal of free silver is that a lowering of the monetary standard, and therefore of wages is the only way to meet the encroachments of oriental countries, where low wages paid in cheap silver give the manufacturers a tremendous advantage over countries having higher wages and a high monetary standard. There may be something in the contention that the productive industries of the United States are threatened by the competition of Japan and China, but the manufacturers should be content with the Protective System that the Republican party favors and will re-establish. Moreover, in talking about the necessity for a lower monetary standard, to reduce the cost of production, these manufacturers conveniently ignore the fact that skilled and well-paid labor in America, with the best machinery, has a far greater productive capacity than the ill-paid labor of the Orient, where modern machinery is as yet but little known. They also ignore the great fact that there is a wide gap between our civilization and that of the far East and that, while the latter will not tolerate any policy involving the degradation of labor.

The assumption that the Republican party will, under any circumstances whatever, endorse such a programme in the interest of manufacturers, or claimed to be in their interest, is preposterous. The Republican party is devoted to the principle of Protection. That is its cardinal doctrine and policy. The essential object of Protection is to promote the welfare of American labor. To lower the monetary standard and thereby reduce wages would be to destroy the effect of the Protective System. It would be practically an abandonment of Protection.

The movement set up by foot soldiers of manufacturers is an object-lesson to American workmen. Their one purpose in advocating free silver is to cheapen labor. This would inevitably result from the free coinage of silver, which would of course bring the United States to the monetary standard of China and Japan.

Of all the elements in America the workingmen should be the most alert, earnest and vigorous opponents of free silver and advocates of sound money, advocates of the maintenance of the present standard of value. Of all elements the workingmen should be the staunchest friends of the Republican party, which believes that labor should have good wages and that the wages of labor should be paid in honest dollars.

Populist Delegates. It is now held that the key to success Monday and Tuesday will be the choice of delegates and would have to call a doctor and then suffer for about twelve hours as much as do those who die. He was taken recently just the same as at other times, and concluded to try Chamberlain's Colic, Choate and Diaries Remedy. He says: "I took one dose of it and it gave me relief in five minutes. That is more than anything else has ever done for me." For sale by James Wood, Druggist.

MARTIAL LAW.

The Riot Bell Rung and the Troops Called Out.

The Statehouse at Frankfort Now
Guarded by Soldiers.

Gov. Bradley Intervenes to Protect the Legislature from Democratic Senators
Threatening His Arrest and Trial
For Blocking Legislation.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 16.—The riot bell rang at 11 o'clock Sunday night, and at the same time an order was issued by Gov. Bradley calling out the state guards to preserve the peace. The McCreary guards, 52 strong, were sent to the Statehouse, and a guard was congregated at the armory at 11:15, and ten minutes later were in possession of the state house and grounds and martial law was declared.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 16.—The Company E. of Lexington, under command of Capt. Langmuir, arrived here on a freight train at 3:30 o'clock. The soldiers are passing the night in the statehouse. Those who are now on duty sleep in the corridor between the two houses. Gov. Bradley is spending the night in his office. Everything is quiet.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 16.—Sunday night's trains brought a good-sized crowd to visit the scene of the trouble between the two houses. Gov. Bradley's struggle over the senatorial election is offering a good show.

It is conceded on all sides that the fifty-second ballot will be the forecast of the final result, and the excitement over suspense over it is painful in the extreme.

In addition to the orders which Gov. Bradley has given Sheriff Armstrong for the swearing in of a large force of deputies and the exertion of every power to prevent a disturbance, a detachment of the state militia is also expected to arrive at 10 o'clock to take a hand along the line.

Word came here Saturday night from Louisville that the members of Congress from the State Guard, headed by Gov. Bradley, had gone to the company of soldiers at the McCreary station. Stockton was stabbed four times with a pocketknife while engaged in a row with another young man named John Moreland, who lives in the western part of the city. Stockton was wounded in Cumberland county. The difficulty occurred in Clinton. Moreland has made his escape to Tennessee. If Stockton dies it will be the fourth murder committed in the county within a year.

Laughlin's Case May Be Continued. AUGUSTA, Ky., March 16.—It is now thought that Murderer Robert Laughlin will be tried again next week. The July term of court adjourned at 10 a.m. yesterday. Judge Harbin has held a hearing to determine if Laughlin would have to be brought to this county before a continuance of his case could be granted. But Judge Harbin stated to a correspondent that he did not consider it necessary, and that Laughlin would be tried in the Mayville trial until duly.

To Elect a Successor to Senator Weisiger.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 16.—Lieut. Gov. Worthington says he will let it be known that he has no objection to the late Senator Weisiger, of Louisville. He will call the election before Tuesday, but it can not be held until eight days after notice is given, and will, therefore, cut no figure in the sectional election.

To Elect a Successor to Senator Weisiger.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 16.—Capt. Thomas Bruce, of Carrs, Ky., ten miles west of here, was stricken with paralysis and is in a critical condition. He was for many years one of the most prominent men in the state, and a steamboat captain from Cincinnati to New Orleans. He is a brother of Hon. W. B. Bruce, of Louisville.

Louisville Militia Under Orders. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 16.—The First Regiment of Louisville Legion, First regiment, was ordered to stand to arms to the late Senator Weisiger, of Louisville.

Everything is quiet, and nothing can be heard except the steady tramp of marching soldiers as they pass through the crunching snow.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 16.—At midnight Col. John B. Castleman, commanding the Louisville Legion, First regiment, telephoned to the First regiment, ordering him to bring his men to Frankfort on a special train to leave at six in the morning.

DISASTROUS EXPLOSION. FOUR Men Killed and Two Injured in a British Columbia Mine.

ROSSLAND, B. C., March 16.—The most disastrous accident yet to be recorded in the annals of British Columbia mining occurred at the Center Star mine, which had been closed down and is now being worked again.

We can also furnish the trade, home and general consumer, Graham Flour, made on millet, in 12-pound bags, and Cracked Corn, in 12-pound bags, and Washington Mill, Mason county, Ky.

Washington Daily News.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., March 16.—Peace has been patched up temporarily at length, between Elder L. B. Stine and his congressional opponent, Rep. John W. McCreary, who had been engaged in a bitter struggle for the past three months.

Both men are dead and two more fatally injured.

The mouth of the tunnel was completely closed by debris and the upper portion was removed.

The accident occurred through an explosion of powder which they were throwing out in a hot water tank, in a recess about a foot from the entrance.

The names of the deceased are yet a mystery; as the only man who knows how the powder became ignited lies at the point of death.

Candidate for Delegate.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 16.—Col. John Cox, of this city, a candidate for the nomination of the National Democratic district to the national congressional district at Cincinnati, received a numerously-signed call to become a candidate.

REGULATORS REGULATED.

IN A FIGHT WITH ARMED THIEVES THREE Were Wounded—One Wild.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—A special train from Opelousas, La., says that in an affray Saturday night in that town between Elder L. B. Stine and his congressional opponent, Rep. John W. McCreary, who had been engaged in a bitter struggle for the past three months, both men were wounded, one of whom may die.

It appears several brothers named Roy in St. Landry parish have taken up residence in Opelousas, and engaged in a number of robberies which did not succeed.

The whip手 did not succeed. The Roy brothers, who had been engaged in a bitter struggle for the past three months, both men were wounded, one of whom may die.

Four men were killed in the fight.

Above nine o'clock they came into collision with the regulators and fifteen or twenty men, who were armed with rifles and shotguns.

THIS WEEK

May Wind Up the Cuban Debate in the Senate.

It is Possible that the Report May Be Sent Back to Conference.

The Arkansas Compromise Bill and the Immigration and Tariff Bill Will Receive Consideration—Business in the House is of Varied Character.

Washington, March 15.—It is probable that this week will bring the conclusion of the Cuban debate in the senate, for Mr. Sherman, in charge of the conference report, has no objection to the introduction of the question to a vote at an early date. Senator Morgan, the chairman of the committee, has the floor again, and it was reported yesterday that he will call up the bill on the strength of the numbers of the senate made by Minister De Lome. Others who intend to speak on the subject are Senators Platt (Ct.), White (Cal.), and Blaine (Me.). The chief objection to the conference report is the acceptance by the senate conferees of the third clause of the house resolution, relating to intervention.

The objection to this clause is so bitter that it is not impossible the report may be sent back to conference, although such a contingency is not seriously expected. One senator who has given his support to the bill considers it necessary for the amendment that the report will be agreed to.

The Dupont case has been temporarily laid aside to take up the Senate-Arkansas compromise bill, which last year beat out Carlsbad and South on the one side and Gov. Clark, of Arkansas, on the other, whereby all indebtedness on the part of each is to be finally settled by the payment by the state of $275,000 in money and of $100,000 bonds of the state held by the United States. There is much opposition to the bill.

Mr. Lodge has given notice that Monday will be the day on which the tariff bill reported from his committee, Mr. Pugh, of Alabama, will address the senate upon the tariff bill. His remarks, it is understood, will relate more to the free coinage of silver than to the bill.

The author of North Carolina, will also, during the week, call up his resolution to prohibit the further issuance of bonds and make a speech thereon.

The legislative appropriation bill will be reported Wednesday.

The programme in the house this week presents a varied character. Monday will be committee day, when bills will be considered and will call up measures for passage under suspension of the rules. Among measures thus brought up, it is expected, will be the bill relating to the location of homesteads in Montana, also two or three other bills approved by the committee on public lands.

Chairman Dingley, of the committee on ways and means, will ask the house on Monday to take up the bill reported last week by Mr. Pugh, and amend the customs administration act. He is confident that it can be disposed of in that day's session. It will be followed by the naval appropriation bill. The debate on this bill will probably extend over several days, and in the course of it some remarks regarding foreign relations are likely to be made.

MRS. ELLIS BARTLETT,
A Noted Woman, Dies a Tragedy While, Eng. in Her Eighties Year.

London, March 16.—Mrs. Ellis Bartlett, daughter of the late John King Ashford, of Philadelphia, died Sunday at 8:30 A.M. on the eve of her eightieth year of her age. She was the mother of Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett and W. L. Ashmead Bartlett, M. P., who in 1881 married Baroness Bartlett-Coutts, widow of the late Sir George. Mrs. Bartlett was the descendant of Theodore Lehmann, who was a companion of Win. Penn, and who received from him a large grant of land in Philadelphia. She was the mother of a native of Plymouth, Mass., a lineal descendant of Robert Bartlett, one of the pilgrim fathers, who sailed in the ship Ann, in 1620. Robert Bartlett married Mary, daughter of Richard Warren, who sailed to New England in the Mayflower in 1620.

The German Evangelical Conference.
Baltimore, Md., March 16.—The German evangelical conference, which has been in session here for a week, adjourned Sunday to meet one year hence in Cleveland. Dr. G. F. Guehr, of Cleveland, and ordained Samuel H. Jacob Honecker, of Cleveland, who has been in the ministry for 21 years, was put on the superannuated list. Thirteen hundred dollars were given by the Salem congregation, of Erie, to the missionary funds.

Baltimore, Md., March 16.—Gov. Elmer F. Dyer announced that he has decided to accept the position of national republican committeeman from Illinois to which he was elected last week. The appointment was made after a long conference between the ex-governor and Dr. Jameson, chairman of the state committee.

The Campaign Ended for the Present.
Rome, March 16.—A telegram from the Corrente, Dr. S. S. Leopoldo Mazzoni says that in consequence of the peace negotiations with Emperor Menelik, the Italian campaign against the Abyssinians is ended for the present. The dispatch adds that the correspondent of Corriere del Cittadino will return at once to Italy.

Big Failure in Canada.
Montreal, March 16.—Michael Leaver & Co., vinegar manufacturers, have succeeded with difficulty in getting 500,000 and 600,000 lbs. of both Dr. Pepto and the Canadian Bank of Commerce are heavily interested.

BARELY MISSED.
Boyle Came Near Being Arrested United States Senator.

Frankfort, Ky., March 16.—Everything was quiet at the state capitol Saturday, the fact that the crowd had been kept away for two days past having had the effect of materially lessening it Saturday.

Dupont (rep.), who was seated in place of Kaufman (dem.), did not qualify Saturday, and without his presence, republicans had nothing to elect besides.

In the house Mr. Nance offered a resolution reciting that human life was more important than the election of a United States senator, and as it was reported, that those who had been brought into the chamber the sergeant-at-arms should be instructed to search both males and females before they were allowed on the floor. It was referred to the committee on military affairs.

Sheriff Armstrong had another consultation with the governor Saturday morning. After coming out of the executive office the sheriff said he had been granted his request in a spirit of confidence to the capital Saturday. He told the governor that he preferred a pose of citizens. That governor also wanted him to leave the cloak room, but the sheriff refused to do so.

The governor proceeded to write out an order, but before the sheriff had arrived at the capital, which was again in charge of the police, the senate cloak room was open to the public in the house to witness the session.

Before the squat fellow filed over to the house Mr. Stephens withdrew his motion of Friday to reconsider the vote by which the seats of Walton and White were declared vacant.

Walton, who had been called to change his seat, came forward to relinquish the post. There were 133 present at the joint session. The republicans demanded that the new editor of the journal be allowed to be playing for the cap.

The delay policy seemed abandoned when the sheriff and posse arrived. The republicans again refrained from voting.

The dems voted as usual until Haywood was reached and he began to move along smoothly until the new doorkeeper of the house, Mr. Shadaker, came in and ordered the sheriff to leave the capitol and prevent Col. Jack Chin, Jim Williams and others from coming in. Doorkeeper Tyler, of the senate, came up the new steps and told the sheriff to let him out too and Tyler hurriedly fled to relinquish the post.

The dems voted as usual until Haywood was reached and he began to move along smoothly until the new doorkeeper of the house, Mr. Shadaker, came in and ordered the sheriff to leave the capitol and prevent Col. Jack Chin, Jim Williams and others from coming in. Doorkeeper Tyler, of the senate, came up the new steps and told the sheriff to let him out too and Tyler hurriedly fled to relinquish the post.

The delay policy seemed abandoned when the sheriff and posse arrived.

The republicans again refrained from voting.

All winter Mr. George A. Mills of Lebanon, Conn., was badly afflicted with rheumatism, so much so that he could not stand up straight, but was drawn over on one side. "I tried different remedies without receiving relief," he says, "until about six months ago I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. After using it for three days my rheumatism was gone and has not returned since." For sale by James Wood, Druggist.

NICE DISTINCTION.

When a Common Criminal Becomes a Degenerate.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—"No," said the great student of sociology, thoughtfully, "I do not consider this man a criminal."

"Not a criminal," exclaimed the man of unscientific mind.

"I consider him very far from being one."

"But think what he did!"

"I do. That is why I have come to this conclusion."

"He committed murder, didn't he?"

"Legally, I suppose he did."

"The deed was absolutely fiendish in its cruelty."

"I admit that."

"Four people died horrible deaths as a result of his deliberate act."

"That's quite true."

"Then, if he is not a criminal, there are none."

"On the contrary, there are a great many of them. The shoplifter in the next cell is a criminal. So is the fellow on the other side who assaulted a man with a shotgun. But it is absurd to call this man a criminal."

"Then what is he?"

"He is a degenerate."

"Oh, yes, of course," returned the man of unscientific mind. "I forgot that science had made such great strides of late, and so I failed to apply the usual test."

"The usual test?" repeated the student, inquiring.

"Yes. As I understand it, a criminal becomes a degenerate when he does some thing for which he ought to hang."

LOVE IN THE TRANSVAAL.

The Formalities of Courtship obtaining Among the Boers.

One only change Quay would make in these figures is that he thinks McKinley's vote will not go above 200 on the first ballot instead of 235, which the Dispatch gives him. The number necessary to a choice is 459, which would make McKinley lack at the outset 159 votes of the number required to give him the nomination.

This showing gives McKinley 355 votes on the first ballot; Reed, 215; Morton, 93; Allison, 80; Quay, 75; Cullom, 38; Bradley, 26; Davis, 22, with 18 scattering or undecided. The only change Quay would make in these figures is that he thinks McKinley's vote will not go above 200 on the first ballot instead of 235, which the Dispatch gives him. The number necessary to a choice is 459, which would make McKinley lack at the outset 159 votes of the number required to give him the nomination.

This showing is not quite so favorable for McKinley as some of the other estimates have been, but it is clear that Senator Quay thinks it the most trustworthy of all them. It is difficult to properly appraise Quay's opinion on this question. He is a very shrewd observer of the drift of parisan sentiment, but he is supposed to be somewhat unfriendly to McKinley.

His own candidacy, which he, of course, does not take seriously, is probably designed to draw off some votes from McKinley, at least on the first ballot, and on this account his judgment of the Ohio statesman's chances may be biased. However, all the estimates which have been recently made place the ex-Governor far in the lead. This particular one does not give him quite the ascendancy accorded to him by most of the others, and on this account it is likely to attract attention.

It is the experience of Conventions of both parties, though, that the man who leads on the first ballot often fails to get the nomination.

Seward was first in the voting at the outset in 1860, Blaine in 1876, Grant in 1880 and Sherman in 1888, yet the nomination went to other men in those years. This covers more than half of the Republican Conventions in which there were any actual contests at all.

In Democratic Conventions the man who led on the first ballot was beaten in 1844, 1852 and 1868.

"Republican example is more unfavorable than Democratic to the leader on the first ballot.

The temptation to his rivals to combine against him is strong, and, as the record shows, this is often fatal to his chance.

Interest, therefore, in the St. Louis Convention will continue to increase. There is much uncertainty yet as to the outcome. The name of the nominee will not be known until the votes are counted, Dr. Wood.

The advertising columns of THE LEDGER speak for themselves. They show that people who know how to advertise know also WHERE to advertise.

A suite of apartments was advertised as an fashionable watering place as having six bedrooms, six bathrooms, a splendid view over a fine garden adorned with numerous sculptures. It was found on applying at the address that the garden adorned with sculptures was a cemetery.

W. H. Gresham of Yates Center, Kan., has invented an apparatus which consists of a specially constructed gun, which, when loaded with the necessary material and exploded in the air, he claims, discharges a moisture-producing substance at a height of eighteen miles. Three of such discharge, properly distributed, he claims, will produce a rain fall from three to five inches within twenty four hours, at a total cost not to exceed $6.

Liverpool receives some curious cargoes at times. Carcasses of turtles and other live and dead animals, casks of speeches, shiploads of bones, from battlefields, of human mummies from the Egyptian tombs, and of dead cats from the cat cemeteries in the same country. The cargoes of the dead cats from Egypt are sold chiefly as fertilizers. One cargo which came over in 1890 weighed 1,000 lbs. and was found in a number of coffins, found in a number of sealed coffins in a east cemetery, and supposed to have been there 4,000 years. They were sold by auction and realized $3,150.64 per ton. A few perfect specimens brought good sums as curiosities but the bulk went for manure.
